

6516207858.txt

To not allow XM or other satellite radio services to offer local weather doesn't make much sense. Being a truck driver, I might find myself in a part of the country where I don't know the 'local' stations that offer severe weather coverage, or traffic conditions. With XM, I don't have that problem. And XM doesn't offer ALL the things that AM/FM does.

I still listen to AM/FM for most of my sports.

I don't think XM will EVER have LOCAL sports.

And other local events that only local radio has.

By the way...ease up on the AM/FM guys too.

The radio has gotten ridiculous since the SuperBowl aftermath.

Thanks